Ritisha Roma

blog.rumarion.com
Singapore · +65 9488 0072
romaritisha@gmail.com

EDUCATION

Singapore Management University (SMU) — Singapore · Aug 2024 – Jun 2028
Bachelor of Science (Economics), Second Major in Quantitative Finance

- Notable Coursework: Advanced Microeconomics (contract theory, adverse selection, mechanism design); Intermediate Econometrics (endogeneity and causal identification) `Regression Analysis (Python)` `Bloomberg Market Concepts Certificate`

Nanyang Junior College — Singapore · Feb 2022 – Dec 2023
Singapore-Cambridge General Certificate of Education Advanced Level

- Subjects read at H2 level: Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics and Economics.

EXPERIENCE

Singapore Management University (SMU) · Teaching Assistant — Singapore · Jan 2026 – Jun 2026
Taught and mentored undergraduates across two faculties in foundational courses

- Introduction to Statistical Theory (School of Economics): graded quantitative assignments and clarified core statistical theory concepts like estimator properties and the intuition behind t-tests.
- Business, Government and Society (LKC School of Business): designed discussion materials, mentored 15 groups on project scoping; redirected 60% of teams pursuing unfeasible topics toward stronger research paths.

Integro Law Chambers LLC · Legal Intern, Family Practice — Singapore · May 2025 – Jul 2025
Supported client advisory and case preparation for high-asset, contested matters

- Cross-checked financial affidavits against supporting documents before filing; flagged a ~SGD 3M discrepancy in the opposing party's declared finances, which the firm pursued further.
- Reconstructed case timelines from clients' fragmented accounts & documents; assembled evidence supporting counsel's arguments (e.g. grounds to adjust post-divorce maintenance); drafted affidavits and consent orders.
- Managed clients' expectations and emotions in family-law disputes, redirecting them toward viable compromises while keeping them composed in consultations and court proceedings.

Pro Bono SG · Legal Intern — Singapore · Feb 2024 – Apr 2024
Supported major legal aid schemes and community legal clinics connecting applicants with volunteer lawyers

- Researched legal issues encountered in complex cases with novel scenarios regarding deputyship and uncustomed tobacco importation that the clinic had no prior process for. `LawNet`
- Wrote case summaries that were volunteer lawyers' only briefing before 30-minute sessions, distilling applicants' accounts into facts and legal issues so that scarce pro bono hours went to advice rather than fact-finding.
- Managed intake for ~50 applicants a week, matching cases to volunteer lawyers by workload and case fit (e.g. urgent protection orders to those able to act quickly).

PROJECTS & EXTRACURRICULARS

Essays & Equity Pitches · blog.rumarion.com — Apr 2026 – Present
Essays on economics and beyond; a six-person team pitch and an independent pitch

- Published essays grounded in economic first principles and primary sources, e.g. arguing Singapore must shift from extensive to intensive growth, tracing Goh Keng Swee's 1972 vision to today's entrepreneurship and reserves-policy constraints.
- Led financial analysis for a BYD BUY pitch: argued that negative FCF reflected capacity expansion rather than distress, given a net cash position and internally funded growth. `Quantitative Reasoning` `Capital Structure`
- Building a scenario-weighted DCF for Micron to stress-test the bear case that industry-wide capacity expansion reverses the memory shortage and compresses margins. `Financial Modelling` `Valuation`

Volunteering: English Tutor · CampusImpact's Learning Curve Programme — Jan 2025 – Nov 2025
Tutored a Primary 6 student with learning needs for her national exams

- Took a student with developmental delays from consistently failing English to passing the PSLE, through weekly one-on-one sessions with materials and pacing tailored to her needs over a full academic year.
- Experimented with teaching methods and iteratively refined lesson plans each week based on her responsiveness, steadily improving her comprehension.
- Fostered gains beyond grades: consistent study habits, greater confidence, and a deeper love for literature and language.

Volleyball — 2014 – 2025
Played competitively for more than a decade across Singapore, Malaysia and South Korea

- National A'Div 2nd Runner-up (2023), Pesta Sukan Club Champions (2022), West Zone placements (2020–2021).